WEDDING BELLS

SMITH—CRANG

The following account of the marriage of Claro Smith, taken from the Barnet Press, Whetstone, Eng., is of special interest to Red Deer people. The News joins with a host of friends in wishing them the best of happiness:

"There was a large and fashionable congregation at All Saints' Church, Friern Barnet, on Tuesday, February 28th, on the occasion of the wedding of Miss Emily Grace Crang and Mr. Clarence Carman Smith.

"The bride is the only daughter of Mr. James Crang, M.B.E. and Mrs. Crang, of "Dontford," Myddleton Park, Whetstone, and the bridegroom is the third son of Mr. George Wilbert Smith, M.P.P., and Mrs. Smith, of Red Deer, Alberta, Canada.

"The officiating clergy were the Revs. Seymour Isaacs, M.A., a very old friend of the family, Rev. H. S. Miles, M.A., Vicar of All Saints' Church, and the Rev. W. Evans. The bridesmaids were Miss Olive Downing, Miss Phyllis Wilton Smith, Miss Eileen Walton, and Miss Brenda Walton, and the 'best man' was Cyril J. T. Crang, brother of the bride.

"The address was given by the Vicar. Miss Butterfield, of Whetstone, was at the organ, and among other voluntaries she played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March." The hymns sung were, "The voice that breathed o'er Eden," and "Lead us Heavenly Father," the former of which was sung as a processional.

"The bride, given away by her father, was charmingly attired in a dress of white satin charmeuse, with tunic of lace. She had a Russian head dress with veil and sprays of orange blossoms attached at the shoulders.

"The bridesmaids were very prettily dressed, the Misses Downing and Smith in shell pink crepe-de-chine with black hats, and the Misses Walton in white lace with biscuit-colored hats trimmed with narrow ribbon velvet in delicate shades of pink, mauve and blue.

"The bride carried a beautiful shower bouquet of "lillies of the valley," white carnations and freesia, and the bridesmaids had lovely shower bouquets of pink carnations and freesia.

"Seventy guests, at the close of the ceremony, gathered to enjoy a brilliant reception, which was held in the congregational hall.

"Many telegrams were received congratulating the happy couple, and an excellent photograph was taken of the bridal party and guests. On their departure the path of the bride and groom was strewn with flowers, and the young couple had to face a veritable fusillado of confetti.

"The honeymoon will be spent partly in London and parts of Devonshire, Cardiff and other places of interest.

"The bride's travelling dress was of grey braided cheviotine, with navy blue fur-lined coat, and blue hat. After the honeymoon they will return to the bride's home, where another reception will be held on March 22nd, when the many beautiful wedding gifts will be on exhibition.

"The happy young couple will set sail for Canada at the beginning of April, expecting to arrive in Red Deer about Easter time."

Hides—

No improvement in market, and not anything expected for couple of months.

Furs—

Market steady, with moderate demand, which takes care of all receipts. Spring catch coming on soon.

Mrs. E. Hall Parlby, of Long Valley Ranch, Alta., Alberta, wrote The News last week, stating that she had noticed an account of the new club house for the golf country club, in which it was stated that the club property was formerly Geo. Wilkins' homestead. Mrs. Parlby, who was formerly Miss Wilkins, wishes to correct this statement. This property was owned by F. E. Wilkins, not Geo. S. Wilkins, and was bought by him in 1889 from Walter Reade, the first owner. As it was Mrs. Parlby's home for some years, she was naturally interested in hearing that the property had become the Red Deer golf course, and she wishes the club every success.

HIGH RIVER CREAMERY IS STANDING IDLE

Dairymen in the High River district are considering having the creamery there started up again, says the Times. For several years it has remained idle, and the taxes remaining unpaid, the property has reverted to the town. The Times points out that during the past year when grain, beef and other farm produce were around zero, it was the checks for cream that kept the ordinary farmer going.

Economical Trench Silo

At the recent dairymen's convention at Regina Mr. G. H. Hutton, superintendent of agriculture and animal industry of the C. P. R. department of natural resources at Calgary, gave an interesting description of a trench silo. He said:

"During recent years it has not been a very serious problem to make money in dairying, inasmuch as the prices of butter and cream and whole milk have been ruling relatively high during that time, and the man who gave his business the serious consideration which it should receive has been able to show a satisfactory return on his investment.

"However, with the decline in values of all dairy products which has taken place during the last 12 months, and which, according to certain forecasts will continue for another six months, the question of reducing costs of production becomes a very live and important problem.

"Cattle give best results when supplied with an abundance of succulent fodder. Juna pastures have frequently been named as the ideal condition for economical production of milk and beef. If by a system of pickling grasses or similar fodders we can make them available for a much longer period or even during the entire season when good grass is out of season, we will have accomplished a result which will contribute toward the production of maximum quantities of milk and butter fat at minimum costs. Such a result can be achieved by the use of silos and silage crops.

"The sunflower will set aside some of the objections which might be raised to the other ensilage crops. First, it is superior to corn for dry areas, as it outyields that crop during years of low precipitation. It is a crop which responds quickly to an increase in rainfall or to irrigation, as we have secured yields of over 34 and a half tons of sunflowers to the acre on irrigated ground, while this season we secured a yield of 12 tons to the acre on dry land and during a very dry season. Second; on the other hand the sunflower crop germinates and grows at a lower temperature than corn, and resists frost in spring and fall, thus enjoying in this climate a much longer growing season than corn.

"This crop, because of its weight per cubic foot, can be safely stored in the trench silo. Such a type of silo brings this class of fodder within the reach of thousands of dairymen. It means more than this to many farmers, for many of them will now be enabled to engage in mixed farming, keep dairy cattle, and thus stay on the land and get on their feet, whereas prior to the advent of this crop they were facing defeat and despair.

Other Silos

"In recommending the trench silo, I do not for a moment disparage any of the types of silos now in use as a means of storing feed. They have one disadvantage, however, and that is that they cost money. The trench silo affords a method of storing feed which is inexpensive apart from labor, and most men who are struggling to get on their feet are willing to make an expenditure of their own labor in order to achieve success.

"The quality of the feed so stored appears to be quite equal to that stored in the ordinary silo. It may be argued that there is a certain loss of moisture by drainage, and the point is doubtless well taken.

"I am certain that the silage stored in the trench will give excellent results, as we are now feeding some sixty-five late summer and fall calves in the open on sunflower silage from the trench silo. These calves are making excellent growth, and I have seen no thrifter lot this year nor at any time. My argument is, therefore, that even though there may be some loss of food value through moisture which drains away from the trench silo, the fodder which remains is highly nutritious and superior to any fodder ordinarily available.

Construction

"The method of construction of the trench silo is simple. It consists of an excavation on a fairly well-drained site. It is not lined with cement or lumber, nor is it provided with anything to permit the filling of the silo above the surface. It is simply an excavation. It is about eight feet deep, sixteen feet wide and can be as long as desired, depending upon the size of the herd and the material to be stored. It is fed off one end, like a loaf of bread. The daily capacity per animal is from forty to fifty pounds, depending on the quantities of straw, hay or grain, if any, which is being fed. The weight of a cubic foot of ensilage in a trench will average about 35 pounds, and based on the above figures the length of the silo required to accommodate sufficient feed for the herd can be readily determined. The cutting box was set up outside the trench, and a short length of pipe and the hood provided the necessary piping. The silage was distributed and well tramped. This year the trench was filled only to the level of the ground, when it was well-covered with straw from an old stack bottom. I think it would be an improvement to round up the silage above the level of the ground a couple of feet, keeping it well tramped for two or three days. When the silage has finished settling the trench would then be approximately full. The straw or other covering to be used could then be put on. The trench method of storing has kept the silage with practically no loss and the quality of the fodder, as I have already said, is first-class.

Conditions Demand Economy.

"Conditions demand the strictest economy in the handling of any of our fodder propositions, and if the dairyman is prepared to do some manual labor in the way of cutting the crop by hand, the only equipment that he will require in order to provide his stock with ensilage in abundance is a cutting box, the purchase of which could be handled by the community or a group of farmers, so that the cost would be a very small amount for each member of the "Silo Association" as it might be termed.

"In conclusion I simply want to point out that this matter has been sufficiently tested to remove doubt as to its feasibility. We have at hand in western Canada means by which the cost of production of dairy products can be reduced twenty to thirty per cent. In areas which have been dairying under former methods, which includes practically all western Canada. Figures indicate that a reduction of twenty per cent. in the cost of production of dairy products in the three prairie provinces would mean a saving of nine million, six hundred and sixty six thousand dollars."

ICE INDUSTRY AT BANFF

ICE OPERATIONS ON BOW RIVER AT BANFF.

The winter season at Banff, Alberta, gives opportunity for the promotion of an extensive ice-industry. It is unique as the only industry of its kind west of Selkirk, Manitoba. The ice-field on the Bow river is a hive of industry in the winter time. It is a tract two miles in length and is leased for ten years periods. Operations begin as soon as the river freezes over, in the care given to keep the space clear of snow. The ice is marked by a line two inches deep into cakes 22 by 44 inches. An ice channel is made at one side of the river and the cakes ar floated up to a bench for loading.

About 60 men are employed in the work each season and they use such implements as a splitting bar, a pike-pole for directing the pieces up the ice channel, an ice saw for sawing the cakes 28 inches down, following a two-inch mark that is made early in the season around each piece. An ice needle is used for splitting the blocks at the bench and the ice monkey grasps the cakes out of the ice channel and carries them up for loading. Ten cakes at a time are floated down the ice channel, each weighing about 900 pounds. The output is about 25 cars a day and will be about thirty thousand tons for the season. Each car holds 44 tons, and is shipped over the Canadian Pacific Railway.

British Columbia is thus supplied with ice. It is used in the Okanagan Valley, at Kamloops, and the coast cities. It is of great service in caring for British Columbia fruit such as in refrigerator cars, and is used on dining cars as the purest ice that can be obtained.—C. G.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET

By C. G. I. T. Girls at Methodist Church

The Canadian Girls in Training of the Methodist Church, under the most capable direction of their Superintendent, Mrs. O. W. Thorne, gave a very successful banquet Tuesday evening. Every teen-age girl in the congregation was invited to come and bring either her own mother or a borrowed one. Each mother on entering was presented with a white carnation. The tables were beautifully set in the basement of the church and about 100 guests sat down. In point of menu and service the meal equalled, if it did not surpass, the banquets given by older people. After the supper a programme of toasts and speeches, etc., was carried out. The President, Phyllis McGregor, made a most charming and efficient chairman. The programme was very pleasingly varied; besides the toasts there were a song, "Mother Machree" by Mary Robertson, a violin solo by Gipsy Mahaffy, a pageant, Mothers of the Bible, by Miss Smith's and Mrs. Thorne's classes, and a drill by Mrs. Seerancke's class. Mr. Johns delighted the audience with his songs, Mother o' Mine, and for an encore Duna.

The toast list was as follows:
King and Country—Proposed by Phyllis McGregor.
Singing of "God Save the King' 'and "O Canada."
Our Homes—Proposed by Edna Welton; response, Mrs. McGregor.
Chorus—"Home, Sweet Home."
Our Mothers—Proposed by Margaret Crummy; response, Mrs. Woodsworth, Mrs. Carscadden.
Canadian Girls—Proposed by Mrs. Welton; reponse, Physical Standard C.G.I.T. Ila Grier; Intellectual Standard C.G.I.T., Stella Brazier, Spiritual Standard, C.G.I.T. Lois Humber, Service Standard, C.G.I.T., Eileen Shannon.
Glee—
Sunday School—Proposed by Lorna Bennett; response, E. G. Johns, superintendent.
Our Church—Proposed by Edith Cody; response, Rev. Dr. Crummy.
Closing C.G.I.T. Prayer.

While the dishwashing was being done the mothers gathered in the supper-room, where they were led in some jolly songs by the officers of the C.G.I.T. The girls and their leaders are to be heartily congratulated on their banquet and their work generally.

Red Deer's War Memorial Statue, an Epic in Stone, Nearing Completion

Major Frank H. Norbury, Edmonton Sculptor, Turns Out One of Finest Pieces of Work Ganadian West Has Ever Produced---Figure of Heroic Size

By W. Everard Edmonds in Edmonton Journal).

"At the present time our cities have an unparalleled opportunity for encouraging a love of the beautiful by the erection of suitable memorials for those who died in the war." Little did the writer dream when he wrote those words for The Journal twelve months ago that within the year he should look upon one of the finest pieces of sculpture that the West has yet produced. To many, indeed, this may seem a bold statement to make, but a visit to the studio of Major H. Frank Norbury, where Red Deer's war memorial statue is nearing completion, will serve to convince even the most skeptical. The writer's only regret is that this noble specimen of the sculptor's art cannot be retained in Edmonton.

The figure, which is of heroic size, is that of a soldier who has just completed a tour of duty in the trenches, and preparatory to falling to the rear, takes a long look westward, where lies home with all its sacred associations. The facial expression is marvellous when one conseiders that the artist has had to achieve his effect in stone. In the arrangement of the figure, which is shown on the usual duck-board of the trench with a few sand-bags to give local color, all superfluous details have been avoided. Dignity and simplicity mark the whole memorial.

DIMENSIONS OF THE MEMORIAL

The greatest difficulty Major Norbury had to contend with was to present a figure interesting from every angle—the monument is to stand in an open space—but this result has been attained. The pedestal, with wide stone steps at the base, is of Winnipeg limestone and stands twelve feet high. The capstone carries a band of carved laurel, and is surmounted by the figure already described which is seven feet, eight inches, in height.

The pedestal will bear two inscriptions, that on the south side being: "In Proud and Grateful Remembrance of Those Who Served in the Great War, 1914-1918."

The inscription on the north side of the monument will consist of four lines from Col. John Macrae's "In Flanders' Fields."

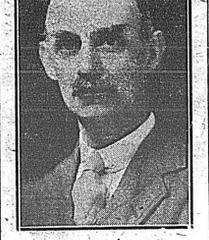
"If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep,
Though poppies grow
In Flanders' Fields."

THE STATUE'S DEVELOPMENT

The Red Deer war memorial will represent almost a year's work on the part of the sculptor, comprising as it does three wholly distinct stages. First of all a small plasticene model, fifteen inches in height, was moulded and submitted to the monument committee.

In the next stage, which covered fully six months, the large clay model was built up from a framework of steel and lead. This model was of the same size as the stone figure, and when completed was cast in plaster. This was the real model for the work in stone.

The third stage represents the work on the monument itself. Several months have been spent in cutting the stone, a huge block weighing seven thousand pounds. This mechanical work, done with hammer, chisel and pointing-instrument, is now almost completed, but two months' labor is still necessary for the textures. It is on this final stage of the work that the sculptor's real artistic ability is shown.



MAJOR FRANK H. NORBURY
SOLDIER AND SCULPTOR

That Major F. H. Norbury is eminently qualified to undertake such a task as he now has in hand must be clear to all who are familiar with his record as an officer of the Royal Army Service Corps in the late war. He commanded the XIV. corps, supply and transport, in the famous trek from the English channel to the Piave river, receiving in addition to the usual war medals, the O.B.E. (military division) and the Croce di Guerra of Italy.

Major Norbury has had twenty-five years' experience as a sculptoral worker in wood, bronze and stone, and has been employed by most of the leading architects in the north of England. He spent six months in restoring the large pediment at the east end of St. George's hall, Liverpool. He was employed for some time in sculptural work on the Royal Assurance company's great building there, and did the exterior carving on the Mersey docks and harbor board offices. The reredos and chancel-rail of All Saints' church, Broad Green, the reredos of St. Nicholas church, Blundell Sands, and the pulpit and the font of St. Nicholas, Wallasey, are all monuments of his work in the old land.

Before the war, Major Norbury was instructor of carving in the school of architecture at Liverpool university, and later in the city school of art.

On coming to Edmonton eighteen months ago he joined the staff of the soldier settlement board, but gave up this position when he secured the contract for the Red Deer War memorial monument, which no true lover of sculpture should fail to see.

THE STATUE

MONUMENT FOR EDMONTON

One last thought. Men in all ages have erected monuments to commemorate noble deeds, noble men, and great exploits. Shall Edmonton, the capital of a great province, be content with but one form of memorial to the heroic dead—the Memorial Hall? Practical provision for those privileged to return is clearly beyond censure, but can we not have something to remind us of those who did not return? Some day, let us hope, there will stand in the grounds of the Memorial Hall, a monument which, purely symbolic in its appeal to the mind, will fitly express the spiritual ideals of those who went out from us, but came not back.

MINERS' STRIKE IN SOUTH AFRICA IS CALLED OFF

Industrial Federation Decides Against Complicity in the Revolution

Johannesburg, South Africa, March 16.—The strike of miners, which had held South Africa in its grip for more than two months, has been called off. The decision was taken by the old South African Industrial Federation, as distinct from the federation's augmented executive. It announced, first, that the general strike was null and void; second, that the augmented executive is to call off the mine strike, and, third, that complicity in the revolution against the government is repudiated by the federation.

Order has been completely restored. The police declare they have voluminous evidence showing that a Bolshevist plot was responsible for the revolution. The revelations will be "astounding," they assert.

A government official declared tonight that the prisoners exceeded 6,000, and that those among them responsible for outrages would be dealt with.

The railwaymen have resumed work.

Joe Thompson, president of the augmented executive of the South African Industrial federation, has been arrested at Johannesburg in connection with the mine strike.

Four persons were wounded in a clash at midnight on Thursday between a number of persons and the republican police.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 22nd, 1922.

OUR MEMBER

Alfred Speakman, M.P. for Red Deer, has been appointed official whip for the Alberta Progressives in the Commons. Dr. Michael Clark always kept Red Deer on the map, and was one of the best known members of the House of Commons in Canada. While Mr. Speakman cannot be expected to fill his shoes as an orator, still he is starting out well, and his career will be watched with considerable interest by a great many people. Already it has been demonstrated that among the Progressives he is held in high esteem. He is well read, an apt scholar, a gentleman of high moral character, and the worthy son of a very able father, the late James Speakman. We, therefore, feel that he can be counted upon to work in the best interests of this great electoral district, one of the biggest and most important in Canada, at all times. He is starting out well, and we wish him success.

BANISH THE BLUES

It is very evident that the people of Red Deer, as a whole, are allowing themselves to be the victims of a mental depression that is quite uncalled for, and altogether unexcusable. The much paraded hard times of today exist in our imagination, mainly. The sooner we wake up and shake ourselves out of our comatose indifference, the better it will be for all concerned.

Mr. Botterill returns with the word that the east cannot understand what is the matter with us; in fact, we couldn't give a reasonable explanation of the matter ourselves if we were called upon to do so. We can't explain it any more than we can explain any other bad dream.

The people have allowed themselves to be scared to death by the hoodoo of high taxation. Why? Merely because we are lacking in vision sufficient to enable us to take advantage of the improved financial conditions in the east to consolidate our financial affairs, sanely and efficiently.

The News took occasion a few weeks ago to suggest that some effective measures should be taken. True, it is too late to adjust civic finances so as to give any decided relief to the taxpayers this year. But now is the time to get ready for next year. If the taxpayers are assured that they will get a reasonable reduction in rates next year, they will buck up and carry the load this year with a smile.

Surely it is not too much to expect that the City Council will take some effective means to place the city's favorable position before the ratepayers in its proper light and initiate some consolidation that will guarantee future relief and hasten the return of confidence.

The Cow Bill is dead. Long live the Cow Bill. It died for want of breath, or, more correctly speaking, for want of funds. It is a pity it didn't die some years ago. Therefore, it cannot be claimed that the Farmer government killed it. According to the Hon. George Hoadley, it just died a natural death. It consumed something like $1,500,000 before kicking the bucket.

The first Saturday session to be held by the house was held on last Saturday and an effort is being made to conclude the session this week. There are still a number of acts to be considered, including the amendments to the liquor act and other important legislation.

DECLARATION OF WAR ON GOPHERS

M.D. of Pine Lake, No. 339, Pass Gopher By-law, and Will Provide Poison—Several Deputations on Roads—Routine Business Transacted.

All the members of Council were present; Reeve Fiske in the chair.

The gopher by-law was given the three readings and finally passed. It provides that every owner or occupant of land shall put out the gopher poison, provided by the Municipality, on his land, and on the road allowance south and west and west of his land, on or before the 20th day of April. In case the work is not done as aforesaid, the Council may employ persons to do the work and assess the costs against the land as provided in the Municipal Districts Act, said costs not to exceed 2½ cents per acre.

J. H. Comfort and several others appeared in reference to the road allowance running through White's slough.

Councillor Day moved that Councillor Hives select a committee to go over the ground and see what can be done in the matter of draining the slough on Secs. 22 and 27-37-27-4 and making a road. Carried.

Hugh Bower appeared with reference to the subdivision of Depot Addition, Plan 5006. Council promised consideration.

Geo. Churches appeared with reference to road allowance between Secs. 16 and 17-38-28-4.

On motion of Councillor Code, Mr. Churches was given permission to enclose the road allowance between Secs. 16 and 17-38-28-4, provided that gates be placed at each end.

On motion of Councillor Hives, it was agreed to distribute gopher poison at the rate of 2 bottles for each quarter section, and that orders for the poison be obtained from the Secretary.

On motion of Councillor Day, the Secretary was instructed to purchase Richards' Gopher Poison in quantities as may be required.

On motion of Councillor Day, G. C. S. Crosby was retained as solicitor at a fee of $150.00 for the year.

The Secretary was instructed to purchase 6 chairs for the office, and to have some arrangements made for the storage of his stationery.

The remuneration of Councillors for the current year was discussed. Councillor Day moved that the rates in vogue last year be cut in two, making the rate this year $2.00 per day for Councillors, $2.50 for the Reeve, and 5c per mile for distance travelled.

The Council agreed that it was up to them to take a cut when they were asking others to do so. The motion carried.

On motion of Councillor Code, it was agreed that meetings of Council this year will be held at the call of the Reeve and Secretary-Treasurer.

Discussing the rate of remuneration for work on the roads, it was agreed that laborers would be paid 30 cents per hour, man and team 50 cents, man and four-horse team 75 cents, foreman 40 cents. Councillor Darragh moved an amendment of 35, 65, 85 and 40 cents respectively, but didn't receive any support.

In this connection, Councillor Code thought the time had passed for handing work out to the ratepayers; it should be done by contract. Council was of the opinion that the time was hardly opportune for instituting the contract system entirely.

Councillor Darragh was authorized to interview the M.D. of Arthur with a view to getting the road from Innisfail to Elnora registered as a Class A or Class B road if possible.

On motion of Councillor Pixley, the government will be asked to register the road from Penhold to Pine Lake as a Class B road.

ACCOUNTS

The following accounts were passed:

T. R. Shaw, $7.00; McPherson Bros., $4.20; R. E. Fiske, $8.40; Western Municipal News, $23.02; Edward Wilton, $136.00; Jas. Darragh, $11.40.

No action could be taken on the estimates or mill rate until the results of the application for new assessment valuation is known.

AMOS WILTON AND PROHIBITION

Editor, News, Red Deer.

Dear Sir,—

I think it is a grand privilege to express our views on public matters in the newspapers, and I am especially glad that this privilege is not confined to college graduates or M.P.'s or M.L.A.'s, but to the common people as well; but I think it is a misuse of this privilege to abuse or slander or belittle an individual; and I said some time ago that if I could not discuss the prohibition question without being personal and belittling individuals, I would keep still on the subject.

Our Attorney-General has said, "While we have the law on the statute books, we should obey it." I am obeying it. He also said, "If we do not think it a good law (and I do not) we should do all we can to have it repealed," and I am doing so.

Now, Mr. Editor, "I ain't mad at nobody." If I could not meet opposition without getting "riled up," then I should keep still, and I would say to my prohibition friends: This is a big question. We have only just begun. Better not get hot and go off with a bang; you can always argue better if you keep your temper."

Mr. A. W. Martin, in his letter to The News of March 3rd, says, "Mr. Wilton speaks of the number of criminals we are making. The drinking class, and those who supplied them, always have been the criminal element, no one denies that, so how could we 'make' any by laws against drink?"

Mr. Editor, all the crimes on the calendar have been committed by men who drink, but they are not the only criminals. Some crimes have been committed by drug addicts. We have only to exercise our memory to know that every crime on the calendar has been committed by Prohibitionists and clergymen. There is a clergyman on trial in Calgary today for murder. I hope and pray that he is innocent, and can prove it. But Mr. Martin has expressed a good old substantial prohibition belief that those who drink are bad, and those who do not drink are good.

Mr. Editor, I do not recall when I called people who support prohibition "hypocrites," but I remember hearing a preacher in Calgary say (indirectly) that prohibitionists were disciples of the devil, and he was not a "soap box orator," either, but a principal of one of Calgary's high schools. He said that when a man went up and down the streets of a city declaring he would clean up the city by law and force, he was denying Christ and was a disciple of the devil.

I would not care to make the same statement unqualifiedly, but I do believe that both the devil and the bootlegger are very much pleased with our present prohibition laws, because they work to the advantage of both.

Your readers are asked: "Is there another object so pitiable as a man who has enough liquor in him to make a thorough fool of himself?" Oh, yes! I think there is. A man dying from the effects of moonshine, or blind for life from drinking wood alcohol, or a drug addict, or a man who is a fool when he is drunk and sober all the time.

Mr. Editor, it is "a dickens of a job" for me to write letters for the press. I sent a letter to the Advocate, which I think will appear soon. What I said in that letter I would like to say here, but it would save a lot of ink and paper (my writing paper) if you would be kind enough to copy my letter to the Advocate. If you will, I will close now.

March 17th, 1922. AMOS WILTON.

MR. FORHAN REPLIES

The Editor, Red Deer News.

Dear Sir,—

Mr. C. Anderson's letter in your last issue is one jumble of lies. As for Wagner, whom he mentions, there is no one knows better than Chief Anderson the character of this man; and knowing these statements to be false, he has made use of them to try and injure me.

Chief Anderson told a party in this town that he had enough on this man Wagner to put him away, but Wagner was just told to leave town. Why? This man Wagner did not steal any money from me, neither did I say he did so; and if Wagner offered the Chief a bribe it was on his own account, because Wagner sold liquor off and on while here, and the Chief of Police was conversant of the fact. Just figure it out for yourself, Sir.

Again Mr. Anderson misrepresents an interview I had with him. He makes statements which were not mentioned between us. He perverts what was said to suit his own ends.

The concoctions he mentions were, I presume, a preparation called "Payko," which is a National Formulary preparation, the correct name of which is Wine of Pepsin, which I was selling. (See copy of letter below, which was my authority for selling same). Why did Mr. Anderson drop all the charges against me providing I pleaded guilty to the less charge in the Statute, of which I was not charged? Was he afraid of exposures?

What about a former hotel proprietor, who, according to his own statement, used to sell real beer with Mr. C. Anderson's permission? Why? This is not all, but will suffice to show who was playing a game.

Now, sir, knowing these facts as I did, and if I was trying to "get" Mr. C. Anderson, why didn't I go to the Council with such facts? Simply because I wasn't trying to "get" him. His conscience apparently got himself.

Thanking you for the space,

Yours truly,

G. M. FORHAN.

Extract from letter:

Regarding Wine of Pepsin, we are informed by the Attorney-General's Department at Edmonton that it is in order to sell this article, providing it conforms with the National Formulary.

Vancouver. — The fifteen-storey bulk of the Hotel Vancouver is familiar to all visitors to Vancouver. But of all the people who pass it each day and the many who have stayed in the hostelry it is probable that not one in thousands realizes just what a tremendous enterprise the hotel is.

To run the hotel—which has approximately 600 rooms—requires a year-round staff of about 400 employees. The comparatively small matter of keeping paint work and kalsomining in spotless condition and cleaning the ornate plaster work around the rotunda requires the continuous services of five painters and ten helpers.

These men are hard put to it to keep ahead of the dirt which is brought into the hotel on the smoke-laden air. While they are keeping the walls and ceilings bright no less than seven rotunda cleaners are at work each day keeping floors and windows immaculate and seeing that worn-out electric light bulbs — no mean task in itself — are instantly renewed.

But it is in the downstairs regions of the hotel, far from the gaze of travellers, that the majority of the large number of employees pass their days. In the engine-room where light and power for the hotel are made there are five engineers; a chief, three third-class and one fourth-class. And for the stokers, four ashmen, two shovelers and two truckmen.

Then there are basement cleaners, store-rooms men—four kitchen cleaners, two printers—for menus—a yardman, an iceman, five food checkers and three men on the food control. It is the duty of the last named to see that every ounce of food which leaves the storerooms is tabulated, so that at the end of each day the profits on dining-room operation can be instantly checked.

The kitchen is the largest unit of the hotel. Here there are a chef with forty-eight assistant cooks to serve the dining-room and grill. For the lunch counter there are three separate cooks. Two of the cooks do nothing but broiling, three do nothing but frying, three cook vegetables exclusively and there are six pastry cooks. In addition, there are cooks for boiling eggs, some who make tea, others for coffee, one man who spends his life making toast and another whose sole duty is to clean and open oysters.

The quantity of food necessary to feed the guests in one day would appal the average housewife. No less than ninety dozen eggs are used daily. Between 3,000 and 5,000 lunch and dinner rolls are baked each day. To butter these, and for cooking, 100 pounds of creamery butter are used each day. Carrots are consumed at the rate of 100 pounds a day and between 800 and 1000 pounds of potatoes are used each twenty-four hours. Other vegetables are used in quantities of from fifty to 600 pounds according to how many guests there are in the house.

It takes from eighteen to twenty gallons of cream, fifty gallons of milk and from 175 to 200 pounds of poultry each day to satisfy the demands of the guests. Winter and summer the ice plant at the hotel turns out ten tons of ice each day.

Even buying at lowest wholesale prices, food alone costs the hotel from $1500 to $2000 daily.

PRESBYTERAN MINISTER IS INVITED TO METHODIST CHURCH

Winnipeg, March 17.—Dr. W. T. Herridge, former moderator of the Presbyterian church in Canada and an uncompromising advocate of church union, has accepted an invitation to the pastorate of Grace Methodist church here for an "indefinite" period, it was announced today by E. L. Taylor, K.C., chairman of the quarterly official board. Dr. Herridge is a resident of Ottawa. He will commence his official duties on May 7. "This," said prominent officials of Grace church, "is, we believe, a really practical step toward church union, and the first time that a prominent diving of one denomination has been invited and accepted regular pulpit duties for a sister denomination. It is a distinctly good omen for church union."

Railway News in Brief

Vancouver, B.C. — The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has called for tenders for the construction of a new bridge across the Coquitlam River to replace the old one washed away during the heavy floods of November. The new structure, which will be built of steel, is to be about 300 feet long with concrete piers. The concrete abutments will be placed further apart than in the former structure to make more allowance for another possible swelling of the river. The new Coquitlam bridge, when completed, will be one of the most substantial examples of bridge construction on the Canadian Pacific Railway.

PRESENTATIONS TO CHIEF ANDERSON

Citizens and School Boys Present Tokens of Their Regard for Departing Chief of Police.

A meeting of citizens in the city hall, on Friday evening, was the last of a series of farewell functions for Chief Anderson, who left on Saturday afternoon for Fernie, B.C., to take up this work there.

There was a fair attendance considering the large number of counter attractions.

Ald. Broughton spoke briefly for the City Council. They were all sorry to see Mr. Anderson leave. His work in recent years had been heavy with the numerous duties that had been delegated to him, but he had done his work extremely well. Referring to the appointment of Mr. Anderson's successor, Mr. Broughton stated that he had preferred a local man in some respects, but on the whole favored the appointment of a more experienced man. He appealed to the citizens to support Chief Streatfield.

Ald. Gibson referred to the official farewell which St. Andrew's Society had tendered the Chief, but he wished to add a few words for the Society on this occasion. He spoke of the wholesome dread of the police that the boys felt in his native land, how they would "scuttle" in all directions when they saw an officer coming. It was all so different here where nobody dreaded Chief Anderson.

Mr. Gibson believed that the Chief was proud of the part he had played in helping the boys and girls of Red Deer to be self-respecting citizens. He paid tribute to the sane way in which the Chief dealt with the boys and how the results reflected credit on his wisdom. The Chief had a laudable ambition to seek larger fields, and while he regretted to see him go, he wished him every success.

Commissioner Stephenson spoke of the high personal regard he had for Chief Anderson. Having come into intimate touch with the Chief's work, he appreciated more than most people how well he had done his work. He hated to see him go, but hoped that Red Deer would be larger than Fernie some day, so that they could bring the Chief back here.

The Commissioner took occasion to re-affirm his faith in Red Deer. It is a good town, and with the growth of the province that is bound to come, Red Deer will certainly do its share.

He had always found the Chief ready to co-operate, a trait that was general with the civic employees. It should not be left till a man is dead or goes away to tell him that his services have been appreciated. He wished the new chief success and co-operation from the citizens. It is a time when captions and malicious criticism thrives throughout the world, and it is well to discourage the practice when it goes to extremes.

Ex-Ald. Stone referred to his associations with the Chief on the Board of Health and in connection with the general work of the city. He appreciated the Chief's quiet way, and referred to a number of homes that had reason to thank the Chief for the return of domestic tranquility. He would remember the Chief kindly.

Sergt. Smith spoke for Inspector Fisher, of the city, who was prevented from being present through the illness of his wife. He endorsed the Chief's methods, spoke of the harmony that had prevailed between the city and provincial forces, and wished the Chief success in his new work.

Ex-Ald. Galbraith spoke for the press. Both papers had co-operated willingly in maintaining the good order of the city. The Chief had been a big brother to all the citizens. He also paid a tribute to Mrs. Anderson, and stated that no man stood well without a good wife to help him.

Principal Locke spoke of the Chief's work with the schools, how he had looked up the truants and straightened out the Hallowe'en pranks. He had helped the boys to, appreciate education. Probably the teachers understood the Chief's work more than even the members of the School Board, who were more concerned with the financial affairs of the schools. He thought the new chief would be well advised to continue the same sane policy that Chief Anderson had pursued.

On behalf of the boys of the School, he presented the Chief with a handsome fountain pen as a token of their regard for him.

School Trustee W. E. Payne, K.C., thought that after hearing from the Council, the A.P.P., the Press, and the School, it was fitting that the Court should be represented as the final authority. There was never any suspicion that Chief Anderson ever tried to put anything over when he was on a case. His evidence was always fairly presented without fear of man or the bribe of money. The Chief's departure would be a loss to the whole of Alberta. With the tremendous handicap under which the new Chief would take up his work, following a man like Chief Anderson, he needed the support of all the citizens, who should be charitable toward him.

The secret of Chief Anderson's success was the absolute confidence that everybody had in him. No secrets leaked from his lips. Moreover, the Chief had a natural love for the children, who fairly worshipped him; it is a wonderful faculty for a man to possess. Mr. Payne approved the Chief's action in going, as in doing so he would be able to serve Canada better in a larger field. There was no limit to the place he may yet reach.

Mr. Payne apologized for the enforced absence of the Mayor and the Chairman of the School Board, R. L. Gaetz.

PRESENTATION

Mr. Payne, on behalf of the citizens, then presented the Chief with a handsome gold watch, carrying the following inscription: "Presented by the citizens of Red Deer as a token of appreciation, to Charles Anderson, March, 1922." He also presented Mrs. Anderson with a wrist watch bearing her initials, as a token of appreciation of her co-operation.

Chief Anderson, in reply, considered this the hardest situation he had ever been placed in. Nobody loved the boys and girls more than he did. He had vivid recollections of his own experiences as a boy with the police in Dundee. He advised parents to treat boys and girls as they would any other animal—kindly. He loved the police work, and believed in putting people on their honor. While he thanked all for their kindness, he would remember the boys and girls most.

C. C. Gamble referred to the Chief's influence over the juniors in the Banks. He considered that Mrs. Anderson would have the hardest task in getting acquainted in a new place, but hoped she would find the associations congenial. In the absence of the President of the Board of Trade, he expressed the Board's appreciation of the Chief's work.

Major Lister spoke for the local militia units who appreciated the Chief's tolerance and his co-operation with the units.

Rev. W. G. Brown spoke for the Social Service Council, who appreciated the sympathetic attitude of the Chief and his advice on various occasions. He had always commanded the wholesome respect of law-breakers by his good work. He hoped the people would get behind the new Chief and was sure that Chief Anderson would receive a cordial welcome in the Pass.

At the close of the meeting, handshaking and farewells were in order, many taking advantage of the opportunity to thank the Chief personally for his work and to extend their best wishes for his future.

AUTO DRIVERS WHO DRINK TOO MUCH, BEWARE!

Car May Be Impounded Under Amendment to Motor Vehicle Statute.

Whether on city streets or country highways, intoxicated persons who have charge of a motor vehicle are liable to have their car seized by the authorities and impounded up to fourteen days for the first offence and up to six months for the second conviction.

This amendment was incorporated in the motor vehicle act when the bill was before the legislature Friday night. The original clause respecting the impounding of cars did not provide for its application on rural roads and protests from rural members had the effect of government changes to this end.

The bill was finally reported from committee, there being other changes respecting the definition of chauffeur, so that regular employees of automobile dealers would not require special licenses as the first amendment would have necessitated.

Mr. Brownlee, on the point being raised by Robt. Pearson, did not favor statutory exemption from license fees of war veterans suffering from amputations, but said provisions in the treasury act would enable the government to make remissions of fees where thought advisable in such cases.

Fire fighting machines will be permitted to proceed at a "reasonable" rate of speed when going to fires, this having regard to traffic and the condition of the highways. Mr. Brownlee thought it would be almost impossible to convict any driver under this clause.

Further provision was made enabling cities to declare areas in which auto lamps must be kept lighted while cars are standing along streets or in parking areas. The new act will require that number plates be kept clean and be lighted so as to be easily discernible.

"I think we should have an entirely new motor vehicles act as soon as possible," commented the attorney general, before the bill was reported.

Many congratulatory messages have been received by Dr. Walter F. Prince, principal investigating officer of the American Society of Psychical Research, who "laid the Ghost" in the McDonald homestead, Halifax.

"When will I be going to College?"

"WHAT decided me to take additional insurance policies was the artless question of my little son," said a business man over the luncheon table.

"My little boy said, 'Daddy, when will I be going to college?'

"Well, I didn't feel sure I could answer that question for the simple reason I didn't know whether I'd be able to send him at all or not. I have two other boys and a girl to educate. The little fellow's question set me thinking. I figured that the safest and most direct way would be to consult a friend of mine who is an agent for the Mutual Life of Canada, and he advised me to take the 'Child's Endowment Policies' issued by that company.

"Under these policies the amount is payable to the child upon reaching a specified age. Should the child die in the interval the premiums are returned. Should the parent die the premiums cease but the policy is paid to the child just the same at maturity: should both the child and father die before maturity the amount will be paid to the assured's estate.

"I took his advice and now carry policies guaranteeing absolutely the cost of an education to each of the four children as soon as they reach the age where a college course would naturally begin."

"These policies are issued by the Mutual Life?" asked his friend.

"Yes, and being participating policies they become very inexpensive. The Mutual you know is the one Canadian Company that returns its entire profits to its policyholders."

To Save the Children

A group of Russia's starving children such as are being saved from death by Canadian contributions.

Russia's government may have sinned; but her little children have not. Russia's people, a vast horde, but dimly conscious, if at all, of social responsibility other than that which each man felt for his own immediate family, may have brought added trouble and disorganization to a war-shattered world. Her little children had nothing to do with it, and yet it is the little children of Russia that are faced with the hideous, ever-powering brunt of it all. They are not facing it; it is too great for them. In millions they are tottering to the ground to end their short lives of unrelieved horror in one last agonized spasm.

In the famine-stricken provinces of Russia there are, or were, 33,000,000 people. Millions already have died of starvation; Nansen says ten millions more must die. That includes men and women, patient, humble peasants who have had no hand, no thought, in the making of the unspeakable conditions that have swept over their once happy land. These know they must die, are almost content to die, finding in death the end of suffering and the cessation of horror.

But their children—the parents are human beings; if they were mere animals the long protracted death agonies of their little ones would still be unbearable. To most of them there comes no help. The task of feeding their children first and then themselves is too great; they die and their children are alone to wander about the country in quest of something, anything to devour. Little claws that should be the pretty hands of children dig in the ground for roots, except when the ground is frozen, and misshapen little sectres crawl from refuse heap to ruined cottage to see if one small, eatable fragment may not be overlooked.

Again, if they were animals it would be different, and easier. Instinctively they would know how to wrest a living from Mother Nature. But little children must be fed. They must have food found for them, and in Russia there is none, so they must die. Death is not the worst of it. If a peaceful death were all they suffered, it would not be so bad. It is the hideous horror of the dravn-out struggle, and it is helpless little children that are suffering. They are suffering to-day and must continue to suffer to death, unless—

Unless the civilized well-fed people of the world hear their awful cry for help, and give that help quickly, it will be too late for countless thousands of children. The call has come to Canada with evidence far too horrible to print. The photographs reproduced herewith merely suggest others, more dreadful, that cannot be published.

Will Canada, land of happy, healthy children, heed the call? The appeal is being made in the belief that she will. The "Save The Children Fund" has opened an office in the Elgin Building, Ottawa, and the Canadian people are urged to send their subscriptions now to Sir George Burn, treasurer of the fund at that address. One dollar will feed a child for one month; $500 will feed one hundred children until next harvest.

"He gives twice who gives quickly."

Saved from death by the humanity of those who have already contributed to this fund.

NEW CHIEF OF POLICE

A. T. Streatfield, of Nanton, Gets Position

At a special meeting of the City Council on Wednesday, after the Commissioners and the Council had had talks with Mr. A. T. Streatfield, of Nanton, as to his record and methods, and the Mayor, Aldermen and Commissioner had been favorably impressed by his personality and record, Mr. Streatfield was unanimously appointed Chief of Police of Red Deer, in succession to Chief Anderson. Ald. Gibson was away, and while Ald. Eline was opposed to bringing in an outside man, he voted for the appointment to make it unanimous and to assure the new Chief of the loyal support of the Council. Mr. Streatfield spent a couple of days being initiated into his new duties by Chief Anderson, and will probably be on hand on Monday to take up his work.

Mr. Streatfield is a Kentish man, and served twelve years as a soldier, being recalled from Lethbridge in 1914 at the outbreak of the war to re-join his regiment, the West Kent Imperials. He was wounded in the head with shrapnel at Plugstreete in 1914. In 1915 he transferred to the Canadian forces with the 3rd Division Train. He was again wounded back of Lens in 1918 with shrapnel in arm and leg, and was sent home that year. He has the Distinguished Conduct medal with bar, for special meritorious service. He has served three years with the Alberta Provincial Police in Southern Alberta, principally on the border, and is highly spoken of in the A.P.P. report for 1920. For the past six months he has been Chief of Police at Nanton. He has a wife and a daughter of 14 years. He is 43 years of age, but does not look it.

Liquor export houses will be regulated under a new act, this to provide for a tax based on the stock carried with a maximum of $2,000 annually, and a surtax of $2 per gallon proof spirit in excess of 1,000 gallons.

The ten million men who yielded up their lives in the great war were sacrificed as a final warning to posterity that war must cease, and that war must end or war shall end the world, was the statement made by J. W. Dafoe, editor of the Manitoba Free Press, when he addressed the members of the Hamilton Canadian Club on Friday.

MR. SPEAKMAN, M. P.

Asks in Commons for Revaluation of Soldier Settlers Lands

In the Commons at Ottawa on Tuesday, in the debate on the reply to the Address from the Throne, Alfred Speakman (Progressive) Red Deer, declined to accept the pessimism of the leader of the opposition as his guide in judging the government policy. He preferred to retain his optimism until the government by future action should destroy it. "We intend", he said, "to believe that the government will carry out their legislation according to their platform and their pre-election promise. We intend to assume that they will do it and to give them assistance in doing it."

He condemned protection as a cause of high production costs on the farm. It was wrong morally and economically and it bore most heavily on those least able to pay. He advocated a revision of the indebtedness of the veterans who had taken land under the soldier settlement board. They had bought their land, stock and equipment at peak prices and were now heavily in debt. Under these heavy charges, seventy per cent. of these re-established men were doomed to failure; and if they were allowed to fail the government would have to bear the loss. While they were on the land they were an asset and he urged upon the government the wisdom of revaluing the land, stock and equipment on these farms and adding the difference between the original and the present value to the national debt of the country.

MESSAGE FROM THE NEW M.H.O.

To the Citizens of Red Deer:

As Medical Officer for the City, I feel it my duty to point out the danger of the present wide-spread epidemic of whooping cough. Although usually treated so lightly, this malady has probably more ill after-effects than any other of the diseases of childhood, and deserves more careful attention than is usually accorded it.

To prevent any increase in the present numerous cases, children affected should be kept out of school and other public places, and also from coming in contact with unaffected persons. All cases should be reported, and in cases where there is any doubt, an accurate diagnosis should be made. I hope to receive the co-operation of all citizens of the city in this matter, so that no stringent measures will become necessary to control a more wide-spread epidemic of this disease.

C. F. DORSEY,
M.H.O. City of Red Deer

John Connolly, a clerk in the clearing department of the head office of the Bank of Montreal, was arrested on a charge of stealing $6,000 from the bank.

The necessity for closer co-operation between the University of Toronto and the Ontario law school was urged by Chief Justice Sir William Meredith in an address before the Ontario Bar association, Toronto, on Thursday.

NEWS BULLETIN FROM EDMONTON

(Issued by Publicity Commissioner.)

By arrangements made by the Agricultural Department and the Freight Traffic Department of the Provincial Government, with the Canadian Freight Association, the railways have reduced freight rates on potatoes from the northern part of the Province, whereby there will be a 45c. rate from Edmonton to Vancouver, and a 50c. rate from Edmonton to Minneapolis. Under this arrangement, a great quantity of Edmonton district's surplus potato crop is being marketed.

Several new School Fair Associations are being organized in the Province.

The new bulletin on vegetable gardening has been published by the Department of Agriculture and is ready for distribution.

Full arrangements have now been made for the three day short course in Agriculture at Red Deer, which will be held March 28, 29 and 30. The subjects to be covered are soil cultivation, selection of seed, fodder crops, silos, feeding of dairy cattle, dairy cattle, beef cattle, mutton sheep and draft horses. The lecturers will include F. S. Grisdale, Olds Agricultural College; S. G. Carlyle, Livestock Commissioner; C. Marker, Dairy Commissioner; H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture; Alex Galbraith, Supt. of Fairs; Dean Howes, College of Agriculture, and others. It is expected, also, that Hon. Geo. Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture, will be present at one of the evening meetings. Motion pictures will also be a feature.

PROVINCIAL HEALTH REPORT

Health propaganda carried on by the Provincial Department of Health, through clinics, by the preaching of health by the public health nurses, and through all the general activities of the Health Department, supplemented by similar work of local health departments, has all had its distinct result in the encouraging decrease in the infant mortality rate in the province. This is shown in the annual report of the Provincial Health Department, tabled in the Legislature by Hon. R. G. Reid.

Dr. Laidlaw, Deputy Minister of Health, points out in his report that the infant mortality rate in Edmonton, for instance, dropped from 105.6 in 1920 to 87.3 in 1921, and in Medicine Hat dropped from 116.1 in 1920 to 76.7 in 1921.

Births in the province during 1921 totalled 15,846 against 16,361 for 1921, a decrease of only 15. The total for 1920 was a record for the province by 1600.

Marriages totalled 4628 during the year, a decrease of 426 from 1920. The decrease was almost entirely in the cities. There were 88 divorces during the year.

The death rate has dropped. It is now only 8.6 per 1,000. The total deaths in 1921 were 4904, a decrease of 596 from 1920.

The splendid progress of municipal hospitals is told of in the hospital report. The following statistics show the growth.

Total patients—1920, 2439; 1921, 3411.

Hospital days—1920, 29,585; 1921, 39,995.

During the year five municipal hospital districts were organized, namely, Camrose, Red Deer, Warner, Taber, and Grande Prairie. The adverse vote at Red Deer against the sub-hospital plan, Mr. Whiston thinks, is an indication of the unpopularity of this particular phase of municipal hospitals and suggests the elimination of the provision for sub-hospitals. New hospital buildings have been erected, or are being erected, at Viking, High River, Hanna and Provost.

The number of maternity cases handled in the municipal hospital was 645 in 1921, as against 444 in 1920.

Total grants to all hospitals in the province during the year was $249,564.50.

The province is caring for 32 cases of incurables at Macleod and Daysland hospitals at a total cost of $11,928.25.

During his address at the dinner, Wednesday evening, Hon. Geo. Hoadley announced the policy of the government to continue extension work by means of short courses and demonstrations, in a practical way, the intention to appoint eight or ten agricultural agents to assist farmers to meet and solve their problems, and the intention to offer some assistance to those competing in the international livestock show at Chicago. Mr. Hoadley took occasion to urge attention to diversified farming, and said that the man on the land who did not raise his own food in the way of butter, eggs, milk and meat, was not a true farmer. Deputy Minister Craig spoke of the recent legislation doing away with cream stations and stated that these had cost the industry $240,000 a year. He estimated that whereas in the past it had cost 33½c a can to ship cream to the creamery, under the new scheme it would cost about 15 cents. This meant a straight saving of $150,000, and with improvement in quality through government grading at the creameries of another $150,000, the whole scheme would mean a total saving of $300,000.

HAIL INSURANCE

The annual meeting of the Hail Insurance Board of Alberta, held at Calgary, last week, showed that at the beginning of the season last year there were 2,043,551 acres insured inside the hail insurance district and 1,382 applications were received from 68 municipalities outside for insurance on 323,185 acres. On account of drought, the insurance on 200,368 acres inside and 11,710 acres outside, were cancelled, leaving a total of 2,054,668 acres insured throughout the season. Compared with the year 1920 that showed a decrease of 236,785 acres.

The total risk carried was $20,384,106, which is about 7 percent. less than the amount carried in 1920. Of the total amount a little over 3 percent. was insured at $8.00, slightly more than 9 percent. at $6.00, and the balance of more than 82 percent. was insured at $10 per acre.

The bad crop conditions in Alberta during the year had the very natural effect of greatly reducing the total amount of hail insurance carried. In 1920 there was about $45,000,000 of insurance written in the province, states the report. In 1921 the total amount was probably less than $28,000,000. It was pleasing to note, however, that while there was a reduction this year of nearly 40 percent. of the total amount of insurance written, the amount carried under the municipal plan was only about 7 percent. less than in 1920.

It has been announced that there will be a fall session of the legislature, probably in November, for the purpose of passing upon a provincial income tax. The members will not be paid extra indemnity for this special session, it is announced.

During the week amendments to the dairymen's act, which provide for the elimination of cream buying stations, were passed, a division being taken on third reading and the vote being 28 to 20. It is estimated that the elimination of the cream stations will save the industry $150,000 a year in addition to making it possible to greatly improve the quality of the product, since the cream will be graded at the creameries by the government graders.

LIQUOR ACT AMENDMENTS

Amendments to the liquor act, which will tend to strengthen the hands of the government in providing for a stricter enforcement of the act, have been introduced by the attorney-general, Mr. Brownlee. In brief, the amendments are as follows:

No change in the principle of the present act.

Government by proclamation may open dispensaries at such places as they think advisable.

Drug stores will be permitted to continue sale of liquor until government dispensaries are established after which they may sell only by six-ounce bottle on prescription.

Incorporated drug stores subject to same responsibilities as those not incorporated.

Penalties for unlawful possession of liquor other than in a common dwelling, increased in minimum from $20 to $50.

Penalties by way of fines not increased but magistrates for first offences may (1) fine; (2) both fine and imprison; (3) imprison.

Liquor act commissioner to be appointed.

Government by order-in-council may regulate and limit the amount of liquor which may be sold to "privileged" persons, and determine the number of prescriptions which may be issued to a physician, and also the maximum amount of liquor which may be prescribed.

Restaurants, buffets, etc., are liable to a fine of from $200 to $1,000 for first offences for unlawful sale. Such places will also be placed under license by a special act.

The new tax recovery act has been passed and will come into effect July 1.

Mr. Edwards, of Calgary, was told that the total receipts in liquor vendors' stores during 1921 were $2,166,729.32, the net profit for the year was $571,926.83, the average amount invested in stock during the year was $924,683.52, the total net profits since the act came into force was $2,108,752.13.

Mr. Milnes, of Claresholm, was told that the total salaries of all departments of the government were $3,353,610.56, that the total bonus paid in 1921 was $229,170. He was also told that the government was taking into consideration the whole question of salaries and bonuses of the civil service.

THE CENTRAL ALBERTA LIVE STOCK SHIPPING ASSOCIATION

The Association will save you much money; that is the reason for its existence. We can prove that since the Association was founded in July, 1920, it has put thousands of good dollars into the pockets of the farmers of the Red Deer District.

The Association is handling cattle and hogs co-operatively at a total cost to the shipper of practically 1-8 of a cent per pound.

None of the drover buyers work on a commission so small. In fact they would not be paying nearly so much at the present time if our association were not here to guard your interests.

Our nearest competitor ships on a commission of one-half cent a pound. The difference between ⅛ and ½ is 37½ cents per hundredweight, or $7.50 on a ton of hogs.

Can you make $7.50 any easier way? If you could get $7.50 more for a load of grain at a certain elevator you would go there would you not?

Then why not use the same good judgment when shipping your hogs and cattle?

This Town Needs a Hupmobile Dealer

This is a "Hupmobile town," and it needs, and will soon have, a Hupmobile dealer.

It is the kind of community that most appreciates this fine car.

The Hupmobile, while ranking with cars that cost much more, sells at the remarkably low price of $1,975.00 f. o. b. Calgary.

This brings it within the reach of persons of ordinary means, and makes it a wonderful proposition for the dealer.

The man we are looking for to represent the Hupmobile here, is a hustler and a good business man.

To such a man, we can practically assure many prospects, sales and exceptional profits.

This is the first year we have been able to supply the great potential demand for Hupmobiles outside of the metropolitan centers.

Now the Hupmobile factory has greatly increased its production to supply this demand.

This creates a money-making opportunity. You may be the man we want.

Remember that we have no back-breaking requirements—nothing but what will enhance your bank standing. And our discount rate is much more liberal than is ordinarily offered.

It is unmistakably to your advantage to talk this over, absolutely without obligation. Let us hear from you at once.

Reasonable bank credit and moderate initial investment required.

CAUSE OF FIRE HARD TO DETERMINE

Montreal, March 16.—Opinion was divided as to the cause of the fire which destroyed the city hall, March 3, at the resumed enquiry held here yesterday. The witnesses heard were, with one exception, all city hall employees, and some thought the fire was of incendiary origin while others were of the opinion that mice and rats might have caused it.

Twenty natives were killed and thirty wounded at Nairobo, British East Africa, on Thursday, in fighting which followed demonstrations over the arrest of the Indian agitator, Thuku, says a dispatch to the Central News.

HILLSDOWN VALLEY

The last meeting of the Hillsdown Valley Woman's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. L. McIlroy on Thursday, March 9, and was well attended. After the usual amount of business was finished, Mrs. Pearson sr., gave a very interesting and practical address on the raising of early vegetables, rhubarb, etc. The ladies spent the remainder of the afternoon sewing, the majority of which will be placed on sale at the Hillsdown picnic in July. After a delicious lunch, the meeting adjourned.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. R. Keast, Thursday evening, April 13th, at 8 o'clock. The chief item on the programme will be a debate on the following: Resolved "That an industrious crank makes a better husband than a good-natured slouch." The affirmative will be taken by Mrs. L. Brown and Mrs. R. Auld—the negative by Miss Dunlop and Mrs. L. O'Connor. Refreshments will be served. The meeting is open to everyone, and all are urged to be present.

ULSTER PLANNING DRASTIC STEPS TO HALT CRIME

Belfast, March 13.—The king's speech re-opening the Ulster parliament tomorrow will refer to the situation in Belfast created by the recent outbreak of terrorism and will also deal with the position in Northern Ireland, it is learned.

The Ulster government plans a surprise by giving notice of the introduction, at an early date, of a new and drastic bill for the repression of disorders and crime. The measure would empower the authorities to take possession of the premises from which sniping occurred and if necessary to destroy them.

The bill also would confer power upon the authorities completely to close and barricade danger spots from which attacks have been made from time to time with fatal consequences.

The penalties for those found with arms, under circumstances which indicate clearly their participation in sniping, would be greatly increased under the bill and wide powers would be given the police to allow prompt search and detention of offenders.

FRAUDULENT FEEDING STUFFS

In administering the Feeding Stuffs Act the Seed Commissioner at Ottawa has made the discovery that many commercial stock feeds are adulterated with worthless substances which give only bulk and weight. A product sold as barley meal at $4 a bag, was found by microscopical examination to contain no barley whatever. The material consisted of a mixture of ground corn, sorghum, bean meal, and ground oat hulls. This mixture had the merit of containing some nutritive value. Another mixture sold as ground oil cake, however, was much less valuable inasmuch as it consisted to a large extent of ground cocoanut shells, which is a very indigestible product, together with a little linseed meal and barley flour. These discoveries unfortunately shatter confidence in feed mixtures in general, many of which are sound and good. They go to prove, however, the necessity for a careful enforcement of the Feeding Stuffs Act. Arrangements have been made by the Seed Commissioner for the examination of samples of feeds purchased by farmers when there is reason to believe that misrepresentation or fraud has been practised.

WILLOWDALE NOTES

Everybody's doing it! Doing what? Sawing wood.

The many friends of Walter Rabidou are pleased to hear that he is doing nicely after undergoing an operation for appendicitis at the Memorial Hospital.

The following resolution was passed at the Club on March 7: Resolved, that it is the first duty of the Federal government to put farming on a solid foundation by (a) Establishing a chilled meat trade with Great Britain and other countries; (b) Establishing a wheat board.

The concert that was held under the auspices of the Willowdale Community Club was very successful. The programme consisted of solos, dialogues, duets, recitations, instrumental music, monologues, reading, and Indian club swinging by Mrs. Robt. Darling. Mrs. Harcourt acted as accompanist in a very capable manner. Among others that helped with the programme were Mr. A. M. Steele, Norman Steele, Mrs. Harcourt, Mrs. Fred Cragg, Rev. L. Hughes, Colin and Earl Cragg, Mr. P. B. Wade, Robt. Towers, Hazel and Myrtle Sandercock, Miss D. Fitch, Pearl Rabidou, Lenore Sandercock, H. M. Hodgkinson, and others. The committee take this opportunity to thank all those who so kindly and willingly assisted in any way to help with the programme.

UNABLE TO WALK FOR A YEAR

Paralysis Entirely Relieved by "Fruit-a-tives"

The Wonderful Fruit Medicine

Paralysis is a break-down of the Nervous System and affects the victim in various ways. Sometimes, nervousness makes itself known by hysteria, insomnia, constant headaches, or it may be so bad that one is partially or completely helpless in some part of the body, just as Mrs. Heacock was.

SAULT STE MARIE, ONT.

"When I was twenty-eight years of age, my doctor advised me to have an operation, which I did and it proved very serious, leaving me weak and unable to walk for a year. Seeing your "Fruit-a-tives" advertised in the papers, I decided to try them. I continued to use them regularly, and today I am able to go about my home duties and care for my family".

MRS. J. W. HEACOCK.

Any form of Nervousness is often caused by, and is always aggravated by, Constipation, which poisons the blood, irritates the kidneys and inflames the nerves. "Fruit-a-tives" stimulates the action of liver and bowels, kidneys and skin—tones and sweetens the stomach—keeps the blood pure, and builds up the entire nervous system.

In a word, "Fruit-a-tives" has proved that it is the most scientific and effective remedy in the world for Nervousness or any disordered condition of the nervous system.

EVERGREEN U.F.A.

A special meeting of the Evergreen Central U.F.A. was called and held in the Knowledge Schoolhouse on Thursday, March 9th, at 2 p.m., to hear an address from Mr. German, a U.F.A director in the Red Deer district. He was accompanied by Mr. R. Patterson, of Condor. His interesting and educational address was listened to with great attention and appreciation by all present. He spoke very clearly and simply and was easily understood by the different nationalities represented. The most important theme touched upon in his address was co-operation. As Mr. German had only a very limited amount of time to spare to us, he could touch only very briefly on this subject, and I have been asked to contribute a few lines in supplement.

Co-operation is the very foundation and key-stone of the U.F.A. as of other great organizations. Without it, no organization can grow and hold together to any extent. Unity is strength, but co-operation is power. One may not readily realize its importance to the full extent. It is of vital importance, especially to locals that are composed of several nationalities. If we are to hold together as locals and districts, progress and acquire success and achievement, we must broaden our minds and forget that a brother-member is of German, Austrian, Bohemian or other nationality and remember that he already is or is striving to become a Canadian citizen, and by naturalization ceases to be a "foreigner." If a so-called "foreigner" cannot clearly express himself in English, although he is probably able to speak two or three languages and is educated in his own tongue, he is usually pronounced ignorant and unworthy of notice. Co-operation cannot exist under such conditions. We must get right down to business and erase any feeling of superiority and super-intelligence in respect to nationality, otherwise there cannot be co-operation, and any local or district failing to recognize this fact is doomed to failure. Let "co-operation" be our motto and the success of the U.F.A. is assured. Only by studied co-operation of member with member local with local, and district with district will the farmer eliminate the middleman and profiteer, and receive adequate returns for his capital and labor and be recognized as a business man rather than a hayseed.

Directly after the conclusion of the address several important questions were discussed and with Mr. German's aid were satisfactorily settled. He complimented our President, Mr. A. Atkinson, on the intelligence and business ability of the members of the Evergreen Central local, and deemed his visit a great pleasure. Mr. German was accorded a hearty vote of thanks for his visit, and assistance. In turn he thanked the members for their attention and appreciation and hoped he would be able to pay us another visit in the near future. We sincerely trust that a visit is much nearer than he may anticipate.

The regular monthly meeting was held immediately after the close of the special meeting, Mr. A. Atkinson presiding. A high percentage of the members was present. The meeting being declared open, the rolls were called, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and accepted, and the correspondence disposed of. Several new members were enrolled. Mr. Emil Gaetz was elected a director. The question of affiliation with the Condor and Leslieville locals was discussed and decided upon in the affirmative. Mr. J. Buresh and Mr. E. Gaetz were elected delegates. The buying of binder twine in co-operation with neighboring districts was unanimously agreed upon, and an approximate estimate of the amount required arrived at. Arrangements were made with Mr. R. Patterson, U.F.A. shipping agent for Condor for shipping hogs. The first batch from the Evergreen Central Local will be shipped on the 20th of this month. The meeting closed at 5 p.m.

A meeting of the Condor Local was held in Condor hall on March 4th, and was called to order by the President at 8:30 p.m.

Mr. Patterson announced that Mr. R. O. German, the District Director would speak in Condor hall on Wednesday, March 8th, at 8:30.

The secretary gave a short financial report. Mr. Bice's case was discussed again. Moved by N. Macdonald and G. Gledhill that we hold a benefit social for H. Bice in Leslieville and one at Condor also. Carried. Moved by Scott Hastie and N. Macdonald that Mr. Patterson take charge of the Leslieville social. Carried.

It was carried unanimously that the masquerade on March 17th, be converted into a benefit social for H. Bice.

The secretary was instructed to write the Dept. of Agriculture about grain sleves. Several members promised to take Mrs. Gaetzky a load of poles for firewood, and Mr. Patterson promised to cut it.

Moved by N. Eastman and N. Macdonald that we adjourn until Saturday, March 25th, at 8:30 p.m. Carried.

POTATO EXPERIMENTS

(Experimental Farms Note)

A series of experiments with potatoes have just been completed on the Scott Station. These experiments have been under way for seven years. During this period there were three years favourable to potato growing, two years with medium crops and two years when the season was decidedly unfavourable.

These experiments included not only tests to determine the best variety for northwestern Saskatchewan conditions, but in addition tests were made to determine the best sized sets, the value of sprouting before planting, the distances apart to plant these sets, the amount of cultivation required, the necessity of hilling up, the value of the straw mulch and the cost of producing potatoes.

In the test of varieties thirty in all were on the planting list during the past year. Many of these will be dropped because of lack of yield or because of inferior quality. Of the white cropping sorts, Wee MacGregor, Gold Coin, Carman No. 1, appear to be three of the most promising sorts. Of the red sorts, Early Northern and Rochester Rose have yielded the best. Irish Cobbler is eleventh on the list from point of yield, but is a white sort, comparatively early, and a good keeper. The strain of Early Ohio grown at Scott has never done well, although one of the best keepers of the red varieties and very early.

The experiments in dates of planting show planting an early variety of potatoes on May 15th to give an average increase of 79 bushels per acre over planting on May 29th. Planting a later maturing variety on May 8th gave an average increase of 73 bushels per acre over planting on May 29th.

Cutting sets to have three eyes in each piece resulted in an increase of 4 bushels per acre for one variety and 16 bushels for another over planting whole medium sized potatoes; in addition there were less small potatoes from the sets with three eyes. A comparison of sets with one, two and three eyes in each piece shows a rapid decrease in yield with the decrease in size of sets, the average yield per acre running 228, 208 and 175 bushels per acre for sets with three, two and one eye respectively.

Growing short green sprouts on the green end of the tubers before planting increased the crop yield of an early maturing variety by 57 bushels per acre and 66 bushels per acre for a later maturing sort.

The experiment to compare having the rows 30 and 36 inches apart and the sets 12 and 14 inches did not show such conclusive results, but they indicate that taking into consideration the additional seed requirements of the closer planting, which would amount to about six bushels per acre, there appeared to be no advantage in planting closer than 36 by 14 inches.

In cultivating the crop no advantage was found in cultivating land comparatively free from weeds more than three times.

Hilling potatoes has proven profitable, although in the three driest summers level cultivation proved the best. The average increase for hilling over level cultivation amounted to almost 10 bushels per acre.

A straw mulch was used as an experiment for two years, but owing to a serious decrease in crop yields, and to increased scabbiness, this experiment was dropped at the end of the second year.

An average of the cost of production for this period shows the cost per acre, including rent, labour, seed, etc., to amount to $79.49 per acre. Average prices received at harvest time amounted to 79c per bushel, and the profit over cost to be $41.23 per acre.

MYSTERY FIRES ARE EXPLAINED BY DR. PRINCE

Work of Girl in Family in Altered State of Consciousness.

Halifax, N.S., March 16.—"The fires were produced by the physical means of the hands of the girl of the family (Mary Ellen), as shown by marks left in the building. She was not, however, morally culpable, owing to having been in an altered state of consciousness. There is the added possibility, supported by a body of evidence, in other quarters, that this altered state was brought about by a discarnate intelligence. This is a theoretical possibility, whereas the external facts seem certain. The experiences of Harold Whildden and P. O. Carroll were probably of a supernormal character, which does not necessarily imply that the supernormal cause was spiritistic. It may have been owing to a psycho-physiological cause which is perfectly natural though as yet imperfectly normal."

Dr. Walter Franklin Prince, director of the American Society of Psychical Research so summed up last night the results of his investigations into the fires and other mysterious happenings which drove Alex MacDonald and his family from their home at Caledonia Mills, Antigonish County, during the winter.

NO PSYCHICAL CAUSES

In regard to the experiences of Messrs. Whidden and Carroll, Dr. Prince says:

"The experiences of Messrs. Whidden and Carroll when at the house for the purpose of investigation, by way of hearing strange sounds as of footsteps and feeling actual sensations, are supported, as super-normal experiences of some kind, by other cases investigated at length by experts and which revealed no psychical causes. My own study of a series of rapid and other sounds which lasted for months in my own house makes the testimony of Messrs. Whidden and Carroll quite creditable, to the effect that the sounds were not from ordinary causes."

AUSTRALIA IS GETTING BULK OF SETTLERS FROM BRITAIN

Practically None Sailing for Canada, Northcliffe Press Asserts.

London, March 16.—Lord Northcliffe's Evening News publishes the statement this afternoon that although Atlantic shipping companies are usually preparing at this season to cope with a rush of settlers on ships going to Canada, this year they are practically empty. "A seventeen thousand ton ship with steerage accommodation for three thousand, recently crossed the Atlantic for a Canadian port with only 87 passengers aboard," is one of the assertions.

The Dominion News is assured by immigration shipping authorities that the statement is grossly exaggerated, although they admit that Canada is not getting anything like the number of immigrants that this season usually brings. Australia's big drive for settlers is producing good results, a large number of British boys and young men of the best type making the journey.

The news that Canada is considering the adoption of, a more intelligent and less restrictive immigration policy which was cabled to London a few days ago from Ottawa, has been welcomed here. Owing to the unprecedented depression which has been increased by the lockout in the engineering trade, and which affects all classes, an attractive Canadian immigration programme would produce unusually good results at this time.

KING OF EGYPT IS TITLE TAKEN BY THE SULTAN

Ruler Is A Little Previous In Announcing Independence of the State.

Cairo, March 16.—A rescript issued by the sultan, Ahmed Fuad Pasha, last night, announced that Egypt had become an independent and sovereign state, and the Sultan will assume the title of King of Egypt.

A Cairo dispatch to the London Times last week, said the sultan was expected to assume the title of King upon ratification by the British parliament of the decision to terminate the protectorate over Egypt. The new constitution with which Egypt will be provided, however, calls for reservation by the sultan of some of his prerogatives. The British parliament has not yet passed an act lifting the protectorate.

London, March 16.—An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Cairo says the declaration of Egypt's independence was followed by several demonstrations in Cairo, the crowds smashing street lamps and uprooting trees. Egyptian cavalry was ordered out to restore order.

A good many people would say more if they didn't talk so much.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST HEALER

MR. BIGGINS REPLIES

March 16th, 1922.

Editor, The News,
Red Deer, Alberta.

Sir,

The reverend gentleman who some time ago assigned to himself the fruitless task of misrepresenting Christian Science, tells us that Christian Science "refuses to face the facts of life," and he speaks of it as "cowardice" and "evasion." The truth is that Christian Science enables its students to face the facts of life squarely, and it offers a satisfying solution to life's many problems. My purpose throughout has been not to enter into the subject controversially, but just to correct some of the misstatements with simple statements of fact, and, having done so, to leave the matter there.

Another of your correspondents who has been criticising Christian Science states that "no person of trained and disciplined intellect" could accept Christian Science or "become a member or even an adherent of the Christian Science church." He can hardly expect anyone who knows about the Christian Science movement to treat this statement very seriously.

The ranks of Christian Science include a pretty fair number of men and women of trained and disciplined intellect, a fact that is too obvious to need any great elaboration on my part. Physicians, clergymen, lawyers, judges, editors, college professors, authors, business men of wide experience and with large responsibility are fairly numerous in the Christian Science movement. One department, namely, the editorial department of the Christian Science Publishing Society, may be taken as a typical instance. Of the four editors of the Christian Science periodicals recently appointed, one who is an M.A. is the author of several books on nature study, and has been a lecturer on that subject. Another with the degree of B. Sc. was head of the science department in Glasgow academy for many years. Both of these men have been Christian Science practitioners for a considerable length of time, one of them being also a teacher of Christian Science. Another with the degree of LL.B. is the author of historical and biographical works of established character. The remaining editor, an experienced Christian Science practitioner and teacher, was for some time a lecturer, and is a writer of remarkable clearness and helpfulness.

Christian Science is making its appeal to the unlearned and to the scholarly alike, as well as to those in the intermediate stages. The unlearned have the same means of access to the open fount of Christian Science as have those who are learned. Those who are less learned and who take up Christian Science, usually make good use of every opportunity to improve themselves educationally. Christian Science, rightly understood and properly applied, tends to liberate the mental faculties and capabilities. A student of Christian Science naturally becomes a thinker, capable of thinking for himself, and able in an increasing degree to discern and accept truth and to reject error. Mrs. Eddy has written in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 128), "A knowledge of the science of being develops the latent abilities and possibilities of man. It extends the atmosphere of thought, giving mortals access to broader and higher realms. It raises the thinker into his native air of insight and perspicacity."

Sincerely yours,
PETER B. BIGGINS,
Christian Science Committee on Publication.

KEEPING UP THE MILK SUPPLY

June conditions in the field and management of cattle are conducive to the maximum milk yield. These conditions are, plenty of succulent palatable food, plenty of light, fresh air and clean water and comfortable quarters. These are supplied in summer by good pasture, preferably a legume, clean water, shade from sun and rain and protection from flies. The location of the pasture is of considerable importance, for if the cows are required to travel far it counts against the yield of milk.

As the summer advances and the pastures become dry, and the flies become troublesome, the milk flow falls off unless these conditions are counteracted. Freshly cut green oats fed at this time answer well for the depleted pasture and regular applications of any of the various fly oils counteract the effect of the increasing fly pests.

The milk yield cannot be kept up during the fall and winter without succulent feed, and this is best supplied by roots, such as turnips and mangels, or by ensilage. At the Rosthern Experimental Station no success has attended any effort to grow mangels, but turnips have always yielded heavy crops. Turnips, however, are expensive due to the amount of hand work in growing and to the difficulty in storing and feeding. A much less expensive and more satisfactory winter feed for dairy cattle is sunflower ensilage. The sunflowers can be grown without much hand work and can be harvested with machinery and cut immediately into the silo. Thirty to forty pounds as a daily feed to dairy cows has practically the same effect on milk production as good grass pasture.

But grass alone is not sufficient for maximum returns. Whether on grass or ensilage a meal ration is necessary and a very handy and safe rule is to give 1 lb. of meal for 3½ lb. milk produced. A satisfactory meal may be made up of 3 parts bran, 3 oat chop, 1½ barley chop, 2 oil cake meal. When not on grass cattle do better if fed ten to fifteen pounds of hay or cut oat sheaves along with their roots or ensilage.

Along with feed must go proper care. A good dairy cow is possessed of high nervous development, and knowing this, one can readily understand why undue excitement tells adversely on the milk yield and why the cow responds to comfort and regularity of feeding and milking.

Being a highly developed animal, the dairy cow is subject to many diseases and hence the importance of clean quarters, fresh air and pure water.

To keep up the milk yield, therefore, we must provide:

1. Abundant succulent feed.
2. Meal ration proportionate to the milk yield.
3. Plenty of fresh air and light.
4. Comfortable quarters.
5. Regular attendance.

SPARE THE MILK AND SPOIL THE CHILD

Importance and Value of the Product of the Dairy Cow.

Every family in Canada is vitally concerned in its main food supplies. Among them milk and milk products are as indispensable in the diet of both child and adult as is bread itself.

Referring to child nutrition, Dr. A. J. Amyot, Deputy Minister of Health, recently made the statement that "there are many under-nourished or improperly fed children in this country, whose condition, both physical and mental, would be greatly improved by the more liberal use of milk in the diet."

In a pamphlet just issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture Ottawa, entitled "Why and How to Use Milk," of which Miss H. C. Campbell of the Dairy Branch is the author, it is stated that milk contains all the requirements for the growth and repair of the body. Milk contains protein from which to build new cells and repairs worn-out tissues. It contains fat and sugar, which serve as a source of heat and energy for muscular activity, and mineral matter, which has a regulatory effect and enters into the composition of the body, especially as regards the bones and teeth. The deficiencies of other foods are counterbalanced by milk in the diet. When milk is served with cereal, with bread, or other food made from grains, not only are the nutrients in milk used, but much other protein is conserved for body uses which would otherwise be wasted. Butter, for which there is no real substitute as a beneficial food, is made from cream, and cream is in whole milk with a large percentage of that soluble fat without which the normal growth and development of the body or of the mental powers are impossible. All the good of the milk is not taken off with the cream—far from it. It still contains the protein, mineral matter and vitamines necessary to build bone and make blood. Nor is the food value of milk destroyed when it sours. Made into cottage cheese one pound contains as much protein as a pound of meat, and who can deny the deliciousness of sour-milk biscuits and griddle cakes? Buttermilk has a food value equal to that of skim-milk or sour milk, is easily digested and is delightfully refreshing to drink. Condensed milk is useful where fresh milk is not obtainable, but is not suitable as a permanent diet for babies. Evaporated milk will keep indefinitely if sealed, but when uncovered should be used as quickly as fresh milk. If given to children, fresh fruit juice should be added to the diet.

One particularly interesting piece of information in Miss Campbell's pamphlet is a description of the manner in which milk can be pasteurized at home, thus being freed of any possible obnoxious germs, with practically no expense and with only a modicum of trouble. People who regard ice cream a mere luxury are mistaken; it is a real food. In conclusion it may be stated that forty-nine recipes are given in the bulletin referred to for making delicious dishes, in all of which milk is the principal or most important ingredient.

U.S. BACON AND HAMS AT TOP OF LIST

While we are hearing so much about the Danish bacon which is used in Great Britain, we should not fail to remember that out of the total imports of bacon into the old country during the past two years the United States has been sending about half the bacon they use. The U. S. practically has the ham market cornered.

The Commercial Intelligence Journal gives the following bacon and ham imports into the United Kingdom for the year 1921, and comparisons are in cwts. of 112 lbs.:

Bacon—	1921	1920
Total imports	5,677,786	5,611,030

HIGH-MILEAGE—DOUBLE-LIFE

Dunlop leadership in Tiredom is most manifest. Mileage records almost unbelievable are piling up all over Canada.

The Special Mileage-Making Process, which is the basis of our Fabric Tires, has worked wonders.

Perfect shape and balance, stronger side walls to resist curb and rut abuse, special wear-resisting anti-skid tread, etc., add the last touch to popularizing to the full a tire that has long stood in high favor.

Dunlop "Cords" made good from their inception.

These tires taught motorists to expect more resiliency, greater air space, larger amount of material, better carrying capacity—in short, bigger mileage; and that is the standard by which all Cord Tires are judged to-day.

Tremendous Coal Strike Imminent

In fact it is an absolute certainty. On the first of next month over 10,000 coal miners will walk out, and it is anticipated by the operators that the strike will last throughout the summer at least. This will apply to all the organized mines. There will, however, be a few of the small mines continue to run, but these will be able to supply only a very small portion of the coal required, and you know what happens when the demand exceeds the supply.

UP GOES THE PRICE, SURE

And do not be surprised if the present prices double before this strike is settled. This is no random talk, but the sincere prediction of the Operators, and they ought to know.

How will this affect you? Better put in a ton or two now, and save money, as prices are sure to advance next month. Our coal is ideal for those who are particular about getting the most heat for the least cost. Our coal is all forked, and is free from dirt and rubbish that might add to its weight and impair its burning qualities.

It pays us to give good service. It will pay you to buy where you are well served.

OUR PRICES RANGE FROM $6.50 TO $11.50 FOR LUMP COAL.

Our wood stock is complete. Good, dry, seasoned, split poplar, $2.50; and fine, dry, split spruce, $3.00.

PENHOLD NOTES

Dugald McDougall is slowly improving.

Wedding bells are ringing—more next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Oxley spent Sunday with relatives in Innisfail.

Tom Britton has rented Walter Eggler's farm for three years.

The W. I. meets at Miss Eyre's on Thursday. Everybody welcome.

Miss Ferral, of Blackfalds, was the guest of Katie Pead over the week end.

Mrs. Barton visited her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher, at Bowden, on Monday. They are both over eighty years and are very sick.

The Penhold Rifle Club was reorganized on Saturday after a lapse of several years. As they could not finish their business, they will meet again on Tuesday, March 21. The following officers were elected: President, Henry Henderson; Vice-President, Austin Reeves; Sec'y.-Treas., Tom Kennings; Armourer, Arthur Weaver.

The Hard Times dance on St. Patrick's night was well attended, notwithstanding the dark night and poor roads. Gingham dresses were much in evidence, as were also overalls and ragged clothes. A few fines for starched collars were imposed, Mrs. Norman Stewart won the lady's prize with a dress made entirely of paper, and Tom Kennings the gentleman's prize. Wilson Bros. orchestra supplied the music, and dancing continued until three o'clock.

The Junior Red Cross tea on Friday afternoon was a trump for the children. The girls, in dainty tea aprons, served tea during the afternoon and looked very businesslike. The president and his aides ran errands and got excited when they saw men coming in. The sum of nearly sixteen dollars was cleared, and the Juniors will take a vote at their next meeting to see what particular part of the Junior Red Cross work it will be used for.

A joint meeting of the U.G.G. and U.F.A. locals will be held in the Memorial hall on Wednesday, March 29th, at 1 p.m., to which the public are cordially invited. A report of annual U. G.G. convention will be given, also addresses by L. M. Gaetz, assistant manager, Western Division, U.G.G., and by Mr. E. J. MacKay, elevator inspector, and others. Be on time for start of meeting. The Women's Institute have arranged to serve a 25c luncheon tea at 12 noon and again at close of meeting to all who wish to patronize, whether attending meeting or otherwise. Remember the date, March 29.
